Back-to-school help for students

MORE THAN 400 families are benefiting from the work of the Eden Lodge Youth Charitable Trust and its back-to-school programme.

Yesterday, seven schoolchildren received school supplies as part of the programme. The presentations were made at Abed's & Co. Ltd in Swan Street, The City.

Some of the proceeds were sourced from the trust's Soca Goes Gold 4 event in July. Representatives of sponsors, donors and partners of the trust were also present.

The trust's public relations officer Billie-June Langdon called on corporate Barbados to lend greater support as the need was increasing.
